GERMANS ARE DRIVEN BACK BY ITALIANS

Berlin, November 11—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press)—The Austro-Hungarian troops which are carrying out the new offensive on the Thentino front were attacked yesterday by strong Italian detachments, which pressed them back at one point, the war office announces. The Italians have made a stand on the lower Piave River.

The city of Belluno on the upper Piave, has been captured by Austro-German troops.

(Belluno is in the foothills of the Alps, fifty one miles north of Venice. It is on the west bank of the Piave.) The official communication follows: "Strong Italian forces throw themselves against detachment advancing eastward beyond Asiago and pressed them back somewhat at one point. Belluno has been taken by allied (Teutonic) troops.

"The enemy has made a stand on the lower Piave."

He is in receipt of the following reply: The Pastime Theatre, Maysville, Ky.

Gentlemen: Replying to your letter of November 5th, you are advised that in the opinion of this office where your charge for adults is 10c and for children under twelve years of age 5c you are liable for the Government tax and should collect the same.

Respectfully,
W. P. D. HALY, Collector.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE

FOR FUNDS TO BEGIN TODAY—$3,500,000 GOAL SET FOR CAMPAIGN THROUGHOUT U. S.

Workers Appointed in Every County Mass Meeting at Washington Opera House Yesterday Well Attended—Mason To Give $3,540.

Plans for the nation-wide drive for the big fund with which, through the Young Men's Christian Association, the needs of American soldiers and sailors will be met, have been announced at the international headquarters of the Association in New York City. The drive will begin today and will close November 19. The sum to be raised is thirty-five million dollars. Every state, city, town and rural district will contribute to the raising of the fund, the amount of which was fixed by a national conference recently held in this city, composed of representative men from all parts of the United States.

Not only will the comforts and care which the big fund will make possible be extended to America's fighting men, but to the men of France and of the other allied nations with whom our troops will soon be fighting shoulder to shoulder. Every penny of the fund, it is announced, will be used in caring for the needs of the troops. The work will be done through trained men which the Young Men's Christian Association will provide.

The object of the fund is two-fold; to provide comforts, care and recreation for the men in camp and thus to keep up the morale of America's fighting forces. This the military authorities and those who have visited the camps in France regard as of greatest importance to the success of American arms. The sudden change from domestic to camp conditions, the distance from home and the necessary rigorous routine, observers say, call for a kind of care that the army authorities are not in a position to provide.

General Pershing, in August, authorized the statement that the greatest service America could immediately render was to extend the Young Men's Christian Association work to the soldiers of the French army, tired and worn out by their valiant and successful resistance to the repeated waves of Teutonic attacks. Anticipating similar conditions among our own troops, the Young Men's Christian Association began early in the war to prepare to care for our soldiers and sailors. The offer of service the Association made was accepted gladly by the government authorities, and hundreds of men trained in "Y" work were soon in camp. There are now 2,500 of these men, serving American soldiers and sailors. Many Y. M. C. A. men were called in the draft and shouldered their rifles, since no man is accepted for Y. M. C. A. work unless he has been exempted by the Government or whose name is so far down the list that he is not likely to be called for some time.

With the hundreds of thousands of men the draft called to the colors, the Y. M. C. A. was overwhelmed with work and responsibilities. From the camps came a cry for more help, not only from the soldiers themselves, but from the officers, who value the work the Association renders. Accordingly, a National Conference was held, and it was decided that not a cent less than $35,000,000 would adequately meet the war needs confronting the Association, for not only was there a call for help in the American camps, but from camps of allied nations as well.

A large crowd was in attendance at the Washington Opera House yesterday afternoon to attend the mass meeting in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. war relief campaign which starts today. Judging from the interest and enthusiasm displayed at this meeting there will not be any trouble for the workers to secure Mason county's apportionment of $3,540, which is a part of the $35,000,000 to be raised in the United States this week for the Y. M. C. A. work at the training camps in this country and abroad. A certain per cent will also be used to cheer up the captives in the prison camps of Europe.

Mr. W. H. Rees, chairman for Mason county, had charge of the meeting yesterday afternoon, and after making a few brief remarks he called on the audience to stand and sing "The Star Spangled Banner," which was led by Dr. P. G. Smoot. The Rev. W. B. Campbell, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, then offered the invocation, praying for the success of the campaign this week and for the Y. M. C. A. work.

Interesting talks concerning the work the Y. M. C. A. has been doing at Camp Taylor were then made by Corporal John Lysie Threlkold, Sergeant Henry Helmer, Privates Albert Thomas and Sergeant-Major Robert Lee Straus.

"Dad" Bailey, one of the secretaries at the camp, and who is dearly loved by all the boys, made a stirring address that made everyone have a broader conception of how closely linked the Y. M. C. A. is with the boys from home, who are in need of the strengthening, brotherly hand of the big hearted secretaries, and of the many comforts that have been provided to make the boys feel as much at home as possible. He laid especial stress on the fact that the Y. M. C. A. is trying to provide for the spiritual welfare of the boys and hopes to bring them back from the battle fronts clean morally.

One of the points brought out by one of the young soldiers in his address was the fact that the attendance at church services at the camp was much larger than at the moving picture show. He then asked how that compared with the situation in Maysville.

Chairman Rees announced that at the meeting held in the Washington Presbyterian Church yesterday morning over $300 was raised for the work and that the people there expected to raise several hundred dollars more before the campaign came to a close.

The several musical numbers by Mrs. Edith Hamilton, Mr. Carl Dodds and Dr. P. G. Smoot were much enjoyed and helped to make the meeting a most successful and enjoyable affair. The audience was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. Locke White, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church.

Reports from all over the county were that the meetings held in the various communities were well attended and much enthusiasm shown. Mr. Robert A. Cochran of this city addressed the meeting at Flemingsburg yesterday afternoon and reports that over $1,300 was raised, which will be increased a great deal more when the campaign gets under way this week.

When the collectors come around today do not be afraid to give liberally. The Y. M. C. A. work is as great as the war itself and it is up to you to help the boys have those things that will make life in the camp worth while and to come back clean. Mason county has never failed and it will not this time if you do your part. Let us not be satisfied with contributing our apportionment, but let us come so far over the top that there can be no doubt as to Mason's loyalty to the boys at the front and to Uncle Sam. Let our motto be: "Not a slacker among us."

WETS' LEAD

In Ohio Fight Is Increased 819—Prohibition Leaders, However, Still Refuse to Concede They Have Been Beaten.

Cincinnati, Ohio, November 10—The close of election week for Ohio left the anti-prohibition forces with a lead of 1,816 votes, the tabulations including 77 counties officially reported to the secretary of state, eight county seat official returns and three unofficial but complete county totals. The totals which since Tuesday night had waxed and waned for either side as wets or as variations were discovered in county totals tonight, stood: For prohibition, 522,226.

Again prohibition, 524,042. The jubilation in the camp of the wets over the apparent victory was great, but the prohibition leaders who have so far refused to concede defeat pointed out with a smiling satisfaction that in any event Ohio dries had cut down the wet majority of two years ago, almost to the disappearing point and had really gained more than 65,000 votes.

The vote of Cuyahoga county (Cleveland) reported officially late today, which showed a net gain of 819 wet votes over the unofficial figures, carried the anti-prohibition majority on the face of the tabulations within balling distance of 2,000 and gave the wets what they asserted was ample proof that prohibition was defeated in Ohio.

Call For Special Session of General Assembly Reported Considered By Dries

MINTAGE OF TWO-AND-ONE-HALF CENT PIECE IS URGED

Washington, November 10—Agitation for coinage of a two-and-one-half-cent piece has been renewed by the recent rapid upward movement of prices, caused partly by new war taxes, and a bill probably will be pressed at the next session of Congress to authorize the mintage of such a coin.

Scores of letters from business interests have reached Director of the Mint Baker urging coinage of a two-and-one-half-cent piece to meet prices on small articles on which increases from 7½ cents or 10 to 12½ cents might be made.

Lacking a suitable coin, some business interests wrote, prices of many commodities have been raised 5 cents.

HOGS TO WIN THE WAR

Now, we're told, it's hogs that are to win the war. The department of agriculture presents the matter about like this:

To make sure of victory, we must produce more food.

The most essential kind of food is meat.

The most important form of meat is pork, because "it can be transported more readily and economically to our troops in the field than can any other meat," and because "hogs can be produced quicker than any other kind of live stock."

The department therefore strongly urges the necessity and duty of starting at once to increase the hog supply. These estimated number of hogs in this country is about 4,000,000 less than it was a year ago. It ought to be more, in order to guarantee the proper feeding of our soldiers, our allies and ourselves.

It's simply a question of wholesale breeding instead of wholesale slaughtering. Breeding animals must reproduce themselves, and farmers are urged to see that every eligible hog does her duty.

There is no hardship thus imposed on the farmer. He is merely encouraged to enter more zealously into an extremely profitable industry. The price of pork lately has been more than twice its average price in the three or four years before the war. It isn't likely to go down much, if any. The demand is sure to continue strong until some time after the end of the war. Feed crops are plentiful now. Everything favors hog-raising.

But the patriotic appeal should be stronger than the lure of profits. Raising hogs has become as much a war duty as buying Liberty Bonds.

An average increase of 15 per cent for the entire country is recommended for the coming year. Some states are asked to produce more than that, and some less. Missouri's quota is a 50 per cent increase of her present porcine population. Five per cent will suffice for Georgia and West Virginia. Alabama, Iowa, Kansas, Indiana, Illinois, Mississippi, Arkansas, South Carolina, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, North Carolina, Michigan and Nebraska, have all been derelict in varying degrees. The rest of the states have been doing their duty, and are expected to keep up the good work.

BELGIAN "ATROCITIES"

The "atrocities" which Germany charged the Belgian Colonial army committed in East Africa, and on which Germany attempted to justify the seizure and deportation of twenty prominent Belgian citizens, have been investigated. In its statement of actual conditions the Belgian legation quotes a German official as follows:

"I was at Tabora," says Otto Weber, "at the beginning of the war, and I remained there. Personally I have no complaint to make of the Belgian troops, on their entry into Tabora. However, as chief of the district, I have to say that some complaints were made to me on the subject of the Belgian troops at Tabora, and I have taken personal cognizance of the damage done in the house of Mrs. Horn. I was also told that a butcher shop had been plundered by Italians on the day the Belgians entered Tabora, but I have not been able to verify this statement. At another house the awning outside had been torn by bayonets. I am not able to say positively that the deeds to which my attention has been called were committed by Belgian soldiers, but that is my opinion. All these things were brought to the attention of General Tombour (the Belgian commanding officer). At the end of two days everything was calm again."

Horrible, horrible! Assuredly the Belgians have much to learn before they can attempt to drive the "kultur" of the Kaiser's troops.

UNNECESSARY LETTERS

Any business man who is aggrieved by the high cost of correspondence under the three-cent letter rate may profit by heeding the advice of the National Association of Credit Men. The association's war committee has been looking into the matter of superfluous letters, and reports that there is inexorable waste.

Vast numbers of business letters are virtually duplications of other letters sent to the same person or the same family or firm, and might be eliminated by a careful scrutiny of mailing lists. Another source of waste is the practice, still widely prevalent, of mailing receipts for bills paid by check, when the cancelled check itself is sufficient receipt.

A careful examination of the methods used in every office would probably result in most cases, reforms sufficient to save the extra cost of postage. Such reforms, too, would have the added merit of lightening the labors of an over-worked postoffice department.

BIGGER CHRISTMAS BOXES

May Be Sent Abroad—Weight Limit on Parcel Post to Our Fighting Men in France Is Advanced From Seven to Twenty Pounds.

Chicago, November 6—Uncle Sam is determined that all his nephews fighting in France shall have as big Christmas boxes as relatives and friends here want to send them—up to 20 pounds if mailed early enough. The French government recently gave notice that, because of its inadequate rail facilities, it could not transport any parcels-post package weighing over seven pounds.

Now the U. S. War Department announces that it will handle all Christmas packages for the American expeditionary forces in France, on the lines there have been built and are being operated by our nine railway regiments.

Accordingly the Postoffice Department has issued a new order under which a Christmas package weighing up to twenty pounds may be sent to a soldier in France, but these regulations must be strictly observed:

"In addressing give the name of the soldier, the name of the unit to which he is attached and send it in care of the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, Pier J. Hoboken, N. J. The package must comply with the regular postal regulations, and, in addition, the articles sent must be packed in a wooden box not more than two cubic feet in extent. It must be well strapped and should have either a hinged or a screwed stop. No perishable foodstuffs may be sent. The box should be marked to indicate it is a Christmas package and should reach Hoboken not later than December 5. The rate of postage is 12 cents a pound."

To be sure it get to France in time, mail your Christmas box before November 15.

METHODISTS

Asked To Come To Aid of Church at Pikeville, Which Is Now Heavily In Debt and In Need of Assistance.

Eastern Methodism help! Our splendid church built in 1913, costing seventeen thousand dollars, is face to face with a crisis which will mean the closing of its doors unless eight thousand dollars can be settled at once. With the generous help of our Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, the people can raise six thousand dollars. The remainder must come from generous laymen, knowing the need and opportunity, gave one thousand dollars. This the strategic point for one of our greatest home missionary fields. Are there not twenty men who will give twenty-five dollars each; fifty men who will give ten dollars each; one hundred men who will give five dollars each; one hundred men who will give three dollars each, one hundred men who will give two dollars each? Brother, sister, lovers of Methodism, lovers of America, lovers of God, how much will you give?

There is no better way to make your money immortal, and your work to follow your after you are dead than by giving to this Home Mission enterprise.

Send all money to W. H. Morris.

TWO PERSONS OF 114 YEARS VISIT COUNTY CLERK ON SAME DAY

Owensboro, November 9 — A remarkable coincidence took place in the county clerk's office, when two persons, one a colored citizen of Owensboro, and the other a white resident of Hebbardsville, in Henderson county, both 114 years old, came in the office on official business. Miss Pearl Kinkelspiel, a deputy in the office, waited on both parties. "Uncle Ned" Irvin, of this city, lost his registration certificate, and he was given a duplicate. William Sanner of Hebbardsville, came to the city to have his pension papers properly certified. Altho living at Hebbardsville a short distance from Henderson, Mr. Sanner has been having his pension papers properly filled out in the court house in this city for many years.

GERMANS MULTILATE YOUNG FRENCH BOYS

Lexington, Ky., November 9—W. W. Guire, former C. & O. conductor between Ashland and Louisville now with the American graphically of war scenes. He says in a radius of fifty miles of where his command is encamped there is not one inhabitant of native birth.

He says the Germans have even stripped the graveyards, dug into graves for loot and overturned the coffins taking the metal plates. The bones of the corpses were thrown out of the violated coffins and the vaults are used as quarters for the Toulon soldiers.

McGuire says his command cannot use the water in the vicinity as the Germans have poisoned it all. Violation of young women and multilating of boys so they can never fight was a common occurrence, the letter says.

Billy Misko's next important bout will be a battle with Jack Dillon at the Broadway A. C., Brooklyn, on November 13, two days before the curtain falls on the boxing game in New York State.

RELIEF FROM SUGAR SHORTAGE PROMISED

New York, November 9—Some relief from the sugar famine was promised today by the sugar division of the National Food Administration, which announced that 10,000 tons—ten days' supply—would be placed on the market. This sugar has been in storage in warehouses here awaiting shipment abroad. It will be replaced by purchases from Cuban producers. It was said today that further releases of foreign-owned sugar would be made soon.

Nearly all the small grocery stores here have been without sugar for several days. In many of these stores the supplies of brown and pulverized sugar were exhausted weeks ago.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Five

Jimmie and a German Boy Clash—Must Do Three Things to Save Country.

It was a warm evening, so Uncle Dan went out to a lawn seat under the spreading branches of the great tree that suggested the farm's name of Oak Hill. Billie and Jimmie had been laying for him, so Uncle Dan was captured by the boys on short order.

"Say, Uncle Dan," Billie began. "We had a red-hot argument at school yesterday with Carl Newman. Carl said that German schools were miles ahead of our schools and that no one could come up to the educated German. Well, Jimmie got hot under the collar and handed it back to him good and plenty. Jimmie said if their education taught them to torpedo Lusitanias, sink hospital ships, murder hundreds of women and children, make slaves of the Belgians, poison wells, destroy fruit trees and commit all sorts of crimes, then we did not want that kind of education here. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan? I told Jimmie you spent a lot of time in Europe and knew all about schools, so give us your opinion."

"Well," replied Uncle Dan, deliberately. "The German schools are very thorough; they furnish exceedingly valuable and practical instruction. The industrial training given there is probably the best to be found. The schools as a whole, however, in my opinion, appeal to the head only, and never to the heart. The aim and trend is to make the individual blindly submissive to the Prussian plan of world domination; they teach that it is the destiny of Germany to rule the world, and that to the glory and advance of Germany, in this plan, all things must give way; that the Kaiser as head of the state, can do no wrong if he carries forward the plan of world control. Some of the greatest teachers and preachers even defend and justify her heartless crushing of Belgians and the many other atrocious crimes she has committed in this war. Thank God, our American education reaches both of the head and the heart. It is an education with a soul, and we must maintain the high ideals we have fixed. In a word, in Germany, the people are taught that they exist for the government, while here the government exists to serve the people."

"Just wait a minute," interrupted Billie. "Say that over again slowly, so I can write it down."

Uncle Dan, smilingly, complied. Billie exclaimed: "Now, we will hand that out for Carl to crack. Carl, you know," continued Billie, "has a very smart father who keeps him posted on the German arguments. Carl said our government was only an experiment anyway; that it would not last twenty years, and that it might burst up any old time. Jimmie asked him if Germany was so mighty good, why they did not go back there to live."

"Our government will go on forever, won't it, Uncle Dan?"

"Now," said Uncle Dan, "you are raising a big question, and one that has troubled me for years. Our government is still in the experimental stage; in fact, it is the greatest experiment ever undertaken, and if popular government is to be successful, a few things must be done, otherwise, to paraphrase the great Lincoln, the government of the people, by the people and for the people, will perish. It is my firm conviction," said Uncle Dan, in a very impressive manner, "that if our country is to go on, as we hope and pray, we must very quickly do at least three things, and I will name them in the order of importance as it appears to me:

"First, adopt compulsory universal military training of all young men physically fit before they reach the age of twenty years.

"Next, require that every foreigner who comes here to live must, within a reasonable time, say a year, declare his intention of becoming an American citizen and take the necessary steps to do so, thereby, from that moment, assuming all the obligations of citizenship of our country, and that means he must defend our flag upon equal terms with our native born, and if he is not willing to do this, he should be sent back from whence he came."

"That's the stuff," exclaimed Billie. "And, finally, enact such legislation as will make voting compulsory. Popular government is based upon the participation of all and the rule of the majority, and democracy cannot continue and be successful unless we live up to the spirit of the institution."

"The first step, however, is the passing of the Chamberlain bill for universal military training. If you will get the leading citizen, and especially the editor of your paper, to write personal letters to your congressman and both senators, urging their support, it will help enormously."

"I see by the morning papers," said Uncle Dan, "that the Rotary clubs of the entire country, the liveliest, most efficient organization to be found, have unanimously decided to get back of the Chamberlain bill and give it loyal and enthusiastic support. They will work with the Universal Military Training league to accomplish this important piece of legislation, which will do more than anything else to make us a real nation with a common viewpoint, bring us back to sane living, and teach us the patriotism of service."
